Alcoa of Australia delivers Alumina Limited a strong dividend

Alumina Limited received a A$59 million fully franked quarterly dividend from Alcoa of Australia, through its interest in Alcoa World Alumina & Chemicals (AWAC).

Alcoa of Australia paid the AWAC partners, Alcoa and Alumina Limited, their share of a A$150 million fully franked dividend.

“This dividend again demonstrates the substantial returns that continue to flow from the AWAC joint venture, and AWAC’s capacity to distribute strong cashflows to its partners,” said John Marlay, Chief Executive Officer, Alumina Limited. “Alumina’s intention is to pass on, to the extent practicable, all fully franked dividends to shareholders.”

AWAC is the world’s leading supplier of alumina with a global network of alumina refineries. This network includes Alcoa of Australia’s three-refinery operation in Western Australia, which is the world's biggest single source of alumina, able to supply 15 per cent of the international market.

Alumina Limited will release its results for the first half of 2003 on Thursday, 24 July 2003.
